Dear Families,
What a busy and exciting week we have had!

We are delighted with the safe start of some sports clubs, dance club and Success Club. Starting with these clubs on a small scale has allowed us to keep everyone safe and to start planning for the opening of more after school provision.

We are all so proud of our children!

- On Tuesday some of our Year 6 pupils took part in public speaking training at Wilbury Primary and were a credit to our school in terms of their engagement and behavior for learning.
- As the weather was so wet this week our Year 1 and 2 Sports events have been postponed. When we told the children they were obviously disappointed but they demonstrated real resilience and character and are looking forward to hopefully taking part in the re-scheduled events next week – weather permitting.
- Wednesday was National Numeracy Day and throughout the school the children had fun with maths, playing board games, dancing, rapping, learning Sudoku and proving the answers to maths problems.
- We have also launched Google Internet Legends this week. This is an online safety initiative that is a fun and interactive tool for the children to learn about keeping themselves safe online. Your child will bring home a Google Internet Legends cylinder, you will need to scan the QR code on the packaging which will reveal the instructions to follow. The children have already had a go in school, so will be able to work together with you to set yourselves up. Good luck!
- We were also pleased to welcome Face Front Theatre into school this week on two related projects.
Year 5 were working with the group to film a video about anti bullying linked to the book, The Hero Next Door by Olugbemisola Rhuday-Perkovich. The children really enjoyed the experience and their class is set to receive some wonderful books as a thank you.
On Thursday, Year 4 welcomed Onjali Q Rauf the author of The Boy at the Back of the Class. Staff and children were very excited to meet Onjali and she had asked Year 4 to review a film of a play based on her book. She asked the children for their feedback and advice as to how to improve the play – the children were brimming with suggestions and we are now looking forward to seeing the final version and identifying Fleecefield contributions in the final edit!
- Onjali Q Rauf also visited the Year 5 classes and was impressed at the research that the children had completed about her and her work. So was I! They knew that she had gained a first class degree, was an award winning author and so much more. Well done Year 5!

COVID 19 Information:

The following link gives information about testing sites and how to get tests to use at home. We are advised that if your child has any COVID related symptoms and you feel that they should not be in school, then you will need to get your child tested before they can return to school. You can test your child at home using the free LFT tests, as used by all school staff and secondary aged children. For your own peace of mind and reassurance, I would urge you to collect or request packs for home use.

I would like to thank families for continuing to wear their masks at the school entrances and on the school grounds. This is helping us to remain safe and limit transmission. It is important to know that not all of our staff have been offered their vaccines yet!

I hope we have a drier weekend and you are able to enjoy benefitting from some of the easing of restrictions.

Keep safe.

Yours sincerely,

A Goldwater
